"JD saw accelerated revenue and user growth during the fourth quarter driven by our long-term operating philosophy and customer-centric value proposition despite the ongoing market challenges," said Richard Liu, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of JD.com. "During this quarter, JD continued its strategic transformation into a supply chain-based technology and service company with increasingly diversified sources of revenues. With a strong momentum going into 2021 and with our recently optimized organizational structure, JD will continue to invest in innovative, high potential businesses to drive long-term sustainable growth."

"We are pleased to conclude the year on a strong note with another quarter of solid top and bottom-line results as well as excellent cash flow," said Sandy Xu, Chief Financial Officer of JD.com. "Our operational efficiency continued to improve driven by technology and innovation. We have also made progress in a number of new businesses that we have been incubating, including the successful IPO of JD Health, the submission of JD Logistics's listing application to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the progress of JD Property's series A financing."

Business Highlights

Environment, Social and Governance

- In the fourth quarter, JD Logistics became the first Chinese logistics company to join the Science Based Targets initiative

(SBTi) with a commitment to reducing its carbon emissions by 50% compare to 2019 by 2030. SBTi is a partnership between CDP (Carbon Disclosure Project), the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC), World Resources Institute (WRI) and the World Wide Fund for Nature (WWF) driving ambitious climate action in the private sector by enabling companies to set science-based emissions reduction targets. JD Logistics is dedicated to deploying more new energy vehicles, promoting renewable energies & environmentally friendly materials and enabling partners to implement environmentally friendly practices.

- In November, JD Logistics's courier Xuewen Song received China's 2020 "National Model Workers" award, the nation's highest recognition for outstanding work ethics and contributions to the country and society. Since joining JD.com in 2011, Mr. Song has traveled 320,000 kilometers and delivered 300,000 packages with zero errors, complaints, and safety incidents.

JD Retail

- Multiple renowned fashion and luxury brands launched flagship stores on JD.com, including Hermès Group's luxury shoe brand John Lobb, Italian luxury brand Stefano Ricci, British designer brand Vivienne Westwood, LVMH Group's fashion brand JW Anderson, designer accessories brand Anya Hindmarch, French silverware and jewelry brand Christofle and Japanese streetwear label White Mountaineering. Furthermore, Prada and Miu Miu became the first batch of luxury brands to partner with JD.com to implement pioneering omni-channel initiatives. Customers on JD platforms now have access to a wider range of Prada and Miu Miu products, including exclusive items from their physical stores. The initiatives also help to improve the operational efficiency and inventory management capability of these brands' physical stores.
- In the fourth quarter, JD Retail received multiple prestigious awards from influential advertising organizations, including Effie Awards (Greater China), Modern Advertising Awards, and ROI Awards, for its innovation and contribution in supporting brands in their marketing strategies.

JD Health

- On December 8, 2020, JD Health successfully listed on the Main Board of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange under the stock code "6618," with a global offering of 439,185,000 new shares (including a full exercise of the over-allotment option). Gross proceeds from this offering, before deducting underwriting fees and offering expenses, amounted to approximately HK$31 billion. As a technology-driven platform centered on the supply chain of pharmaceutical and healthcare products and strengthened by healthcare services, JD Health strives to improve user experience and provide easily accessible, convenient, high-quality yet affordable healthcare products and services, encompassing a user's full life span.

JD Logistics

- In January 2021, JD.com was selected by INFORMS as one of the seven finalists for the 50th annual Franz Edelman Award for Achievement in Advanced Analytics, Operations Research and Management Science, the world's most prestigious award for achievements in the practice of analytics and operations research. Along with other seven world-leading enterprises including Amazon, JD.com was recognized for its advanced research and self-developed "unmanned" warehouse scheduling system. JD.com is among the few Chinese companies that were selected as finalists in the history of the award.
- In January 2021, JD Logistics signed an agreement with Chinese confectionary manufacturer Xu Fu Chi. Leveraging JD Logistics's technology capabilities, the collaboration will support Xu Fu Chi's supply chain management system digitalization efforts and enhance the confectionary manufacturer's omni-channel service capabilities across various distribution channels.
- As of December 31, 2020, JD Logistics operated over 900 warehouses, which covered an aggregate gross floor area of approximately 21 million square meters, including warehouse space managed under the JD Logistics Open Warehouse Platform.

Jingxi Business

- Highlighting the commitment to enhancing its presence in lower tier cities, JD.com formed Jingxi Business Group recently, to better serve customer demands and empower small business owners in lower-tier cities. Jingxi Business Group mainly consolidates social e-commerce platform Jingxi, convenience store business Jingxitong (formerly known as Xintonglu or JD New Markets) and community group purchase business Jingxi Pinpin. JD.com is also making efforts to strengthen its supply chain capabilities in lower tier market through business cooperation and strategic investments. Recently announced investments in Xingsheng Preference Electronic Business Limited, a leading community group purchase e-commerce platform based in Hunan province, and China Dili Group, a wholesale produce market operator listed in Hong Kong, aim to realize synergies between JD.com and its investees in lower-tier cities through close collaborations in technology, supply chain and logistics.

JD Property

- With the successful launch of two logistics properties core funds (“Core Funds”), JD Property launched its first logistics properties development fund (“Development Fund”) with RMB3 billion of assets under management in the fourth quarter of 2020. The key investors of Development Fund include GIC, the Singapore sovereign wealth fund, and Mubadala Investment Company, an Abu Dhabi-based sovereign investor. Thus far, the total assets under management of Core Funds and Development Fund has exceeded RMB19 billion.

Other Highlights

- JD.com and JD Digits became the first group of e-commerce and technology companies to partner up with the Digital Currency Research Institute of the People’s Bank of China to test the applications of the Chinese digital currency e-CNY. JD.com and JD Digits have already supported the trial launch of the e-CNY in cities including Beijing, Suzhou and Chengdu. To facilitate the trial launch, JD.com provided local residents in these cities with application scenario for e-CNY including its online e-commerce platforms and offline stores such as JD Home Appliance Stores and JD convenience stores, while JD Digits provided technology supports and services to financial institutions and merchants.

Operational Metrics Update

- As of December 31, 2020, JD.com had approximately 310,000 employees excluding part-time and interns.

Fourth Quarter 2020 Financial Results

About JD.com

JD.com is a leading technology driven e-commerce company transforming to become the leading supply chain-based technology and service provider. The company's cutting-edge retail infrastructure seeks to enable consumers to buy whatever they want, whenever and wherever they want it. The company has opened its technology and infrastructure to partners, brands and other sectors, as part of its Retail as a Service offering to help drive productivity and innovation across a range of industries. JD.com is the largest retailer in China, a member of the NASDAQ100 and a Fortune Global 500 company.

Non-GAAP Measures

In evaluating the business, the company considers and uses non-GAAP measures, such as non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations, non-GAAP operating margin, non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders, non-GAAP net margin, free cash flow, non-GAAP EBITDA, non-GAAP EBITDA margin, non-GAAP net income/(loss) per share and non-GAAP net income/(loss) per ADS, as supplemental measures to review and assess operating performance. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The company defines non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations as income/(loss) from operations excluding share-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions, effects of business cooperation arrangements, gain on sale of development properties and impairment of goodwill and intangible assets. The company defines non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders as net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders excluding share-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions, effects of business cooperation arrangements and non-compete agreements, gain/(loss) on disposals/deemed disposals of investments, reconciling items on the share of equity method investments, loss/(gain) from fair value change of long-term investments, impairment of goodwill, intangible assets and investments, gain and foreign exchange impact in relation to sale of development properties and tax effects on non-GAAP adjustments. The company defines free cash flow as operating cash flow adjusting the impact from JD Baitiao receivables included in the operating cash flow and capital expenditures, net of the proceeds from sale of development properties. Capital expenditures include purchase of property, equipment and software, cash paid for construction in progress, purchase of intangible assets and land use rights. The company defines non-GAAP EBITDA as non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations plus depreciation and amortization excluding amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions. Non-GAAP basic net income/(loss) per share is calculated by dividing non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the periods. Non-GAAP diluted net income/(loss) per share is calculated by dividing non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders by the weighted average number of ordinary shares and dilutive potential ordinary shares outstanding during the periods, including the dilutive effect of share-based awards as determined under the treasury stock method. Non-GAAP net income/(loss) per ADS is equal to non-GAAP net income/(loss) per share multiplied by two.

The company presents these non-GAAP financial measures because they are used by management to evaluate operating performance and formulate business plans. Non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations, non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders and non-GAAP EBITDA reflect the company's ongoing business operations in a manner that allows more meaningful period-to-period comparisons. Free cash flow enables management to assess liquidity and cash flow while taking into account the impact from JD Baitiao receivables included in the operating cash flow and the demands that the expansion of fulfillment infrastructure and technology platform has placed on financial resources. The company believes that the use of the non-GAAP financial measures facilitates investors to understand and evaluate the company's current operating performance and future prospects in the same manner as management does, if they so choose. The company also believes that the non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to both management and investors by excluding certain expenses, gain/loss and other items that are not expected to result in future cash payments or that are non-recurring in nature or may not be indicative of the company's core operating results and business outlook.

The non-GAAP financial measures have limitations as analytical tools. The company's non-GAAP financial measures do not reflect all items of income and expense that affect the company's operations or not represent the residual cash flow available for discretionary expenditures. Further, these non-GAAP measures may differ from the non-GAAP information used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore their comparability may be limited. The company compensates for these limitations by reconciling the non-GAAP financial measures to the nearest U.S. GAAP performance measure, all of which should be considered when evaluating performance. The company encourages you to review the company's financial information in its entirety and not rely on a single financial measure.

(6) TTM inventory turnover days are the quotient of average inventory over the immediately preceding five quarters, up to and including the last quarter of the period, to cost of revenues of retail business for the last twelve months, and then multiplied by 360 days.

(7) TTM accounts payable turnover days are the quotient of average accounts payable for retail business over the immediately preceding five quarters, up to and including the last quarter of the period, to cost of revenues of retail business for the last twelve months, and then multiplied by 360 days.

(8) TTM accounts receivable turnover days are the quotient of average accounts receivable over the immediately preceding five quarters, up to and including the last quarter of the annual period, to total net revenues for the last twelve months and then multiplied by 360 days. Presented are the accounts receivable turnover days excluding the impact from JD Baitiao.

(9) Gross Merchandise Volume (GMV) is the total value of all orders for products and services placed in the company’s online retail business and on the company’s online marketplaces, regardless of whether the goods are sold or delivered or whether the goods are returned. GMV includes the value from orders placed on the company’s mobile apps and websites as well as orders placed on third-party mobile apps and websites that are fulfilled by the company or by the company’s third-party merchants. The calculation of GMV includes shipping charges paid by buyers to sellers and for prudent consideration excludes certain transactions over certain amounts. The company believes that GMV only provides a measure of the overall volume of transactions that flow through the company's platform in a given period. Therefore, it should not be used as a financial metric or industry and peer comparisons.
