"Today, as China emerges from the pandemic, we are glad to see that our business partners are recovering rapidly with the support of our online and offline supply chain infrastructure. And our consumer mindshare continues to expand with over 100 million new active users joining our platform compared to a year ago," said Richard Liu, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of JD.com. "In order to ensure superior customer experience and better serve our business partners, we continued to add new hires even against the backdrop of uncertainties arising from the COVID. We look forward to continuously leveraging JD's leading supply chain-based technology and nationwide infrastructure for the benefit of the society."

"We are pleased to set new records across many of our financial and operating metrics this quarter," said Sandy Xu, Chief Financial Officer of JD.com. "We delivered robust topline growth across all of our product lines as well as record profitability driven by improved operating efficiency and the realization of scale benefits. With solid profitable growth as our basis, we will continue to invest in technology and infrastructure to enhance our user experience."

Business Highlights

Environment, Social and Governance

- JD.com won the Sustainable Retailing Initiative of the Year Award for its Green Stream Initiative at the World Retail Congress in September. The company's Green Stream Initiative promotes a wide range of environment-friendly practices including the use of recyclable parcels, paperless system and new energy vehicles, helping to reduce up to 1,300,000 tons of disposable packaging materials since its launch in 2017. JD Logistics also launched the JD Green Packaging Alliance, a sustainable packaging platform to promote and enhance environmentally friendly projects within the JD ecosystem, counting nearly one hundred enterprises as members, including P&G, Johnson & Johnson, Unilever and Mengniu.

JD Retail

- Subscribers of JD PLUS, JD.com's paid membership program, exceeded 20 million in October 2020. JD PLUS has expanded its membership offerings from exclusive sales discounts, shipping savings and 24 hour dedicated customer services, to include additional benefits from quality consumer brands and bundled membership in collaboration with leading service providers to better satisfy PLUS members' demands in entertainment, travel, education and local services, among others.

- In August, JD.com announced a partnership with China's largest online travel agency Trip.com. As part of the partnership, Trip.com will leverage JD.com's user and traffic resources to strengthen its marketing and operations, while JD.com will benefit from access to Trip.com's core service supply chain, including accommodation reservation, transportation ticketing and tour packages, among others.
- Multiple luxury and fashion brands officially launched stores on JD.com in the third quarter, including Italian luxury menswear brand Zegna, French fashion house Balmain, luxury luggage brand Rimowa, legendary Japanese designer brand Yohji Yamamoto, French clothing brand Ami Paris and Italian sneaker brand Golden Goose Deluxe. In the same period, Chinese-American designer brand 3.1 Phillip Lim, Turkish leather goods brand Manu Atelier, Korean designer brand Juun.J, Japanese fashion jewelry brand Ahkah, as well as luxury lifestyle brand Seletti, also joined the JD.com platform.

JD Health

- In August, JD Health launched its JD Family Doctor brand. The program offers one-stop services integrating all of JD Health's online healthcare services and providing Chinese families with various family-oriented health management packages, including dedicated family doctor teams, unlimited specialist consultations, doctor referrals, 24/7 health manager services and more.

JD Logistics

- In September, JD Logistics and Nestlé, the world's leading food & beverage company, co-launched a large-scale smart storage and distribution center in Tianjin. Leveraging JD Logistics' superior operational capability and technological advancements in supply chain management, the distribution center has the tech-capability to identify specific products and loads that are destined to Nestlé customers, recognize their geographic locations, and use advanced intelligence to visualize and control the migrations or infiltrations of loads between different provinces.
- JD Logistics held the fifth Global Smart Supply Chain Summit (GSSC) in October. At the GSSC, the company launched its own technology brand - JDL Technology - aiming to provide smart supply chain products and solutions, including big data, IoT and robotic technology, for the entire industry as the company continues to focus on supply chain-based technology innovations and applications and opening up its capabilities to other parties.
- As of September 30, 2020, JD Logistics operated over 800 warehouses, which covered an aggregate gross floor area of approximately 20 million square meters, including warehouse space managed under the JD Logistics Open Warehouse Platform.

JD Cloud & AI

- In September, JD Cloud & AI became the official technology service provider for the 2020 China International Fair for Trade in Services (CIFTIS), one of China's three major exhibition platforms. Leveraging its advanced technology in providing business solutions, JD Cloud & AI helped to create a digital event for tens of thousands of exhibitors through a series of services including visual exhibition halls with livestream features, online product and service launch platforms with AI-powered supply and demand match functionality, and smart customer services.

Operational Metrics Update

- As of September 30, 2020, JD.com had approximately 284,000 employees excluding part-time and interns.

Recent Development

The company is pleased to announce that JD Health has submitted the post hearing information pack (the "PHIP") to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange ("HKEX") for publication on November 15, 2020, in connection with the proposed separate listing of JD Health in Hong Kong. The PHIP is now available for viewing and downloading from the HKEX's website at www.hkexnews.hk. The proposed listing in Hong Kong is subject to, among other things, the approval from the listing committee of the HKEX, and the final decisions of the board of directors of the company and of the board of directors of JD Health. There is no assurance that such proposed listing will take place or as to when it may take place.

In October 2020, with the approvals of the company's board of directors and the board of directors of JD Logistics and JD Health, each a consolidated subsidiary of the company, granted to Mr. Richard Qiangdong Liu, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the company, options to acquire 99,186,705 ordinary shares of JD Logistics and options to acquire 53,042,516 ordinary shares of JD Health (collectively, the "Grants") according to the existing share incentive plan of each of JD Logistics and JD Health. The Grants were awarded to Mr. Liu to recognize his significant contributions to the development of JD Logistics and JD Health and to motivate him to continue leading the future success of JD Logistics and JD Health. The Grants by JD Logistics and JD Health are each subject to a six-year vesting schedule and each account for approximately 2% of the issued and outstanding shares of JD Logistics and JD Health as of October 31, 2020, as applicable. As of October 31, 2020, JD Logistics and JD Health had outstanding options to acquire more than 450 million and 90 million ordinary shares of JD Logistics and JD Health, respectively, to award and incentivize their respective senior management, employees and consultants.

About JD.com.

JD.com is a leading technology driven e-commerce company transforming to become the leading supply chain-based technology and service provider. The company's cutting-edge retail infrastructure seeks to enable consumers to buy whatever they want, whenever and wherever they want it. The company has opened its technology and infrastructure to partners, brands and other sectors, as part of its Retail as a Service offering to help drive productivity and innovation across a range of industries. JD.com is the largest retailer in China, a member of the NASDAQ100 and a Fortune Global 500 company.

Non-GAAP Measures

In evaluating the business, the company considers and uses non-GAAP measures, such as non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations, non-GAAP operating margin, non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders, non-GAAP net margin, free cash flow, non-GAAP EBITDA, non-GAAP EBITDA margin, non-GAAP net income/(loss) per share and non-GAAP net income/(loss) per ADS, as supplemental measures to review and assess operating performance. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The company defines non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations as income/(loss) from operations excluding share-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions, effects of business cooperation arrangements, gain on sale of development properties and impairment of goodwill and intangible assets. The company defines non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders as net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders excluding share-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions, effects of business cooperation arrangements and non-compete agreements, gain/(loss) on disposals/deemed disposals of investments, reconciling items on the share of equity method investments, loss/(gain) from fair value change of long-term investments, impairment of goodwill, intangible assets and investments, gain and foreign exchange impact in relation to sale of development properties and tax effects on non-GAAP adjustments. The company defines free cash flow as operating cash flow adjusting the impact from JD Baitiao receivables included in the operating cash flow and capital expenditures, net of the proceeds from sale of development properties. Capital expenditures include purchase of property, equipment and software, cash paid for construction in progress, purchase of intangible assets and land use rights. The company defines non-GAAP EBITDA as non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations plus depreciation and amortization excluding amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions. Non-GAAP basic net income/(loss) per share is calculated by dividing non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders by the weighted average number of ordinary shares outstanding during the periods. Non-GAAP diluted net income/(loss) per share is calculated by dividing non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders by the weighted average number of ordinary shares and dilutive potential ordinary shares outstanding during the periods, including the dilutive effect of share-based awards as determined under the treasury stock method. Non-GAAP net income/(loss) per ADS is equal to non-GAAP net income/(loss) per share multiplied by two.

The company presents these non-GAAP financial measures because they are used by management to evaluate operating performance and formulate business plans. Non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations, non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders and non-GAAP EBITDA reflect the company's ongoing business operations in a manner that allows more meaningful period-to-period comparisons. Free cash flow enables management to assess liquidity and cash flow while taking into account the impact from JD Baitiao receivables included in the operating cash flow and the demands that the expansion of fulfillment infrastructure and technology platform has placed on financial resources. The company believes that the use of the non-GAAP financial measures facilitates investors to understand and evaluate the company's current operating performance and future prospects in the same manner as management does, if they so choose. The company also believes that the non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to both management and investors by excluding certain expenses, gain/loss and other items that are not expected to result in future cash payments or that are non-recurring in nature or may not be indicative of the company's core operating results and business outlook.

The non-GAAP financial measures have limitations as analytical tools. The company's non-GAAP financial measures do not reflect all items of income and expense that affect the company's operations or not represent the residual cash flow available for discretionary expenditures. Further, these non-GAAP measures may differ from the non-GAAP information used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore their comparability may be limited. The company compensates for these limitations by reconciling the non-GAAP financial measures to the nearest U.S. GAAP performance measure, all of which should be considered when evaluating performance. The company encourages you to review the company's financial information in its entirety and not rely on a single financial measure.
